

Walking with God as a Christian Educator

by Phillip Towndrow

This is a book for all true Christian educators, according to the author. He lives in Singapore and there are references and testimonies from Asia. However, the Christian faith has no global boundaries and a Christian educator who is living in Europe will gain great benefit from reading this book.

At the end of each chapter there is a helpful prayer with pointers for further study on the topic. The book is well written and full of practical advice. The section on leadership could have been more comprehensive but all the essential ingredients are there.

Prayer, reflection, fellowship, reading and research, studying the bible are all featured and we are encouraged to reach out and share our testimonies.

This is a book that will encourage all who seek to fulfil their calling within the classroom as Christian educators.

Paul Bate

